Caribtours serves up tennis weeks with Annabel Croft

Juliet Dennis

juliet.dennis@travelweekly.co.uk

Caribtours has joined forces with former British number-one Annabel Croft to offer tennis holidays in Spain and Portugal.

The Caribbean specialist began offering holidays in Europe last September and was approached by Annabel Croft Tennis Holidays a few months ago to fulfil, package and sell its tennis breaks.

The holidays offer individual and group tennis coaching classes using Croft's signature philosophy of 'movement and repetition'.

Packages include private one-to-one coaching, three-day weekend retreats and five-day group coaching programmes for adults as well as junior courses.

All bookings made via the Annabel Croft Tennis Holidays website are fulfilled by Caribtours, which is promoting the holidays to agents through its latest magazine.

The operator has also revealed it hopes to launch Annabel Croft

"This partnership felt right for us and there is an opportunity for us to bring this to the Caribbean"

Tennis Holidays in the Caribbean. It is planning an initial tennis week in Antigua from November 24 with Croft in resort to trial the concept.

Managing director Paul Cleary said: "This partnership felt right for us and there is an opportunity for us to bring this to the Caribbean."

For this summer, holidays are being offered in Tenerife at the Ritz-Carlton Abama, which has seven floodlit tennis courts, and Pine Cliffs Resort in the Algarve, Portugal, which has five floodlit courts set in landscaped gardens.

Seven nights at Pine Cliffs costs £1,499 per person, based on two sharing a deluxe room and including breakfast and a five-day tennis package. caribtours.co.uk

Dubai's new Dubai Pass offers reduced entry to 33 attractions

Dubai Tourism has introduced a prepaid card giving access to 33 venues and events at reduced rates.

The Dubai Pass will be available to redeem from May 16 and can be bought now from dubaipass.ae.

There are two types of pass. The Dubai Select pass costs about £81 and offers entry to three attractions within a seven-day period, while the Dubai Unlimited pass, priced about £184, offers entry to 33 attractions and is valid for three days from first use.

The list of attractions which can be accessed using the pass include Burj Khalifa, Dubai Parks and Resorts, IMG Worlds of Adventure, Wild Wadi Waterpark, Ski Dubai and Desert Safari Tours. The pass also offers 50% off tickets for live entertainment show La Perle.

Agents can earn commission on the pass. Details at iventurecard.com/uk/dubaipass/dubaipassagents
